

February 2010

Presentation of the ITF statistical website

In order to make ITF statistics more accessible to users we have re-designed our statistics web pages. The following statistical products are available:

Statistics by topic give access to dedicated pages for each of our statistical themes where you will find our latest data series (see menu on left hand side of the page).

Quarterly data briefings analyse transport trends using the latest data from our short-term statistics. They are based on seasonally adjusted data and are produced every quarter. Quarterly briefings provide a direct link to the underlying data.

Statistical papers include reports, analysis and studies undertaken by the ITF or elsewhere, of interest in relation to transport statistics.

Global transports trends provide series of graphs illustrating trends for selected transport themes. The graphs include links to data sources.

Release calendar provides a chronological schedule for dissemination of new data and related publications.